THE EYES.

Many of the diseases to which the eyes are liable can only be properly treated by an expirenced oculist, for they are too delicate a structure and too necessary for our comfort to be trifled with. We would, therefore, advise all persons who have the slightest reason to suspeet that anything is seriously wrong to apply at once for competent medical advice. At the same time, we may observe that there are many slighter affections which admit of very simple remedies, and, moreover, there is a course of treatment which, if pursued carefully, will tend much to keep the eyes in a good and healthy condition. When they are weakened or distressed by over exertion, rest is absolutely ne-cessary for them, and few remedies will be found more effectual than bathing them every morning with fresh spring water, in which has been placed just sufficient brandy to make the mixture cause a slight stinging sensation when applied. This weak brandy-and-water lotion may be kept ready mixed, in a bottle, and used every morning. Those who object to the smell of brandy, as many persons do, at any rate so early in the day, may try for a time vinegar and water, but brandy is decidedly the best. As it frequently happens, from some unexplained reason, that the remedy that suits one person may not suit another, we add the following recipes, which are all useful in cases of over-strained sight: 1. Mix one-half drachm of acetate of zine with sixteen ounces of water; dip a piece of soft rag or spenge into this lotion, and touch the eyes lightly with it. 2. Mix one drachm of goulard water, sixty drops of laudanum and one half pint of rose water. 3. Mix together three tablespoonfuls of cold spring water, four drops of goulard extract, two drops of laudanum and fifteen drops of brandy, keep this in a bottle, and sponge the eyes two or three times a day with it. This last remedy will be found exceedingly useful, if the eves are sore as well as weak. Prevention in all cases is better than cure, and it is most undoubtedly true that a little care would prevent many of the evils to the eyes are liable. Notwithstanding they are so useful, and so great a source of beauty that too great care cannot be taken to preserve them, it is notorious that they are by all per-sons very much abused. The practice of reading and writing by firelight, or other imperfect light so generally adopted by young people, cannot be too strongly condemned. Firelight is especially injurious, for the pupils of the eyes are not only unduly dilated, but at the same time they are exposed to a greater degree of heat than they are able to bear. We must remember, however, that light may be too strong as well as too dim; and that the opposite extremes produce the same effect of weakness and injury. Those who are careful of their eyes will never use a table or a desk with their full face to the window, for the rays of light falling directly upon the pupils, cause in this case a forced contraction of them, and a forced expansion of the iris, producing injury to both. The best possible position for the the act of the General Assembly of Virginia inpreservation of sight is to sit with our backs to the window, or when this is impracticable, to have the window on one side of us. This may be said to be what is termed sitting in one sown be said to be what is termed sitting in one's own light; but if the room is sufficiently lighted, tis the best possible position for the presarva-tion of sight. Few things are worse than to-sit at a south window in the full glare of the it is the best possible position for the presarvabe sought for by those who are occupied many hours in reading, working and writing: With one more word of advice, and a few remarks upon eyelashes, we must bring this paper to a close. Our advice is most important, and those who will follow it in youth will save themselves from much trouble in advancing years. We commen it to the notice of all our readers. It is simple, but as a preventive it is invaluable. When in good health never use hot, or even warm water to the eyes .-Sponge them well every morning, and every night also, if you do not mind the trouble, with cold spring water. Sponge both eyes, and all around the temples well for some few minutes, and all the time rejoice in the knowledge that you are doing the best possible thing for the preservation of your sight. This is no mere theory, for we have tried it ourselves. After the constant use of warm water for several years, we have returned during the last twelve months to sponging with cold water with in-calculable benefit. With regard to eyelashes, it does not appear that in this country much care is bestowed upon them, though they are capable of cultivation, and certainty they assist materially in the perfection of female beauty; for there is something exceedingly attractive in long, glossy eyelashes. In the East the training of these appendages constitutes one of the peculiar cares of the toilet. The Circassian Alexandria. ladies are especially celebrated for the beauty of their eyelashes, and no ordinary attention is bestowed upon them. To promote their growth they are cut occasionally; some travellers tell us as often as ten or twelve times in the course of

Persons ruined by Ignorant, Trifling Pretenders and their Deadly Poison, should apply immediately. DR. JOHNSTON. Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most emment Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospi-where, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfu!ness, with frequent blushing. attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, untitting them for either business, study, society or mar-

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Func-tions, General Debility, Symtoms of Consump-

MENTALLY.—T e fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Foretion, &c. bodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply imwediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before comtemplat-

ing. MARRIAGE Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery de ters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose tall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveller returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy suf-ferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being restored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness in despair leaves him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment. DR. JOHNSTON OFFICE No. 7, SOUTH FREDERICK STREET BALTIMORE, MD.
